

Allendale Caravan Park

Park Laundry

After a hiccup when the tumble drier gave up as soon as it was installed, the park laundry is now up and running with a domestic washing machine and a domestic tumble drier. We are running an honesty box system for payment with £1 per use of each machine. Help us make this work to keep prices down and save the expense of coin meters and the electrician to install them. Our first impression is that the laundry is popular.

David Bellamy Conservation Awards

We had our assessment for the conservation awards at the end of July. He sounded very positive and also suggested we put the woodland walk project in for their conservation awards.

New road surface down the park

You will have seen the new surface on about half of the park road. We plan to have the remainder done next spring.

Slowworms & Squirrels

A number of you have seen slowworms on the park this year. They are not snakes, but legless lizards that eat slugs – so I'm all for that! The red-squirrel feeders some of you made last autumn seem to be in use. We haven't seen the squirrels, but some have.

Walks leaflets

The AONB have a great series of walks leaflets in the North Pennines, covering villages, industrial heritage, bird watching etc and are now producing a set of walks from Allendale Caravan Park. Available in a month or so!

Separately, the local scouts have been re-doing the parish walks leaflets and these should also be available in the next few months giving more ambitious walks ideas in the Allen Valleys.

Caravans for Sale

There are a number of caravans for sale on the park – three new and two second hand ones. There is a short description of each and a picture on the notice board. If you are interested in having a look at any of them, do come and speak to us.

If none of these caravans is quite what you are looking for then tell us. We can keep in touch with the dealers to find your perfect caravan.

Moves and Welcome to the Park

Val Roper bought the Cosalt Torino on pitch 32.

The Fryett family bought the Atlas Everglade on pitch 21..

The Headley family bought the Ideal Eclipse on pitch A3 – in the old coal yard - and Peter has built a smashing deck.

The Dixons on pitch 13 are trading in their caravan for a year old Atlas Florida

Regards, Mike and Verona
